

in contact with a couple of them. And they're starting to develop projects in Puerto Rico, especially in the San Juan area. So, imagine, five years from now, if you come here you'll see the buildings we'll be building for them."

Should Fullana's vision become manifest, it's more than likely that the most of the heavy lifting, as well as the hefty rewards, will accrue to the next generation of the family, since all four sons of the three brother have taken on senior administrative rolls in the company. Jaime Fullana LeFranc is a Vice President and Partner; Antonio Fullana Morales is Treasurer and Partner; José Miguel Fullana Morales is Assistant Secretary and Partner; and Manuel Jaime Fullana Morales is Assistant Treasurer and Partner. "Now they belong to the corporation," says Jaime Fullana Olivencia, the company's former President who has already retired. "Antonio is the President now," he says, referring to his brother Ángel, "and when he retires one of them