

rebuilt the property several times over and upgraded into the world-class resort that it now is.”

In fact, the modern Calabash is comprised of 30 suites arranged in a horseshoe shape around eight acres of lush tropical gardens facing out towards the sea. Each suite is beautifully decorated, boasting its own balcony or patio with exquisite views of the opulent surroundings. The resort’s five luxury villas sit on the hilltop overlooking the hotel. The villas have two, three, or five bedrooms. The five-bedroom Hummingbird Villa has been named “One of World’s Best Hotel Villas” by Condé Nast Traveler.

Garbutt says that the Calabash is known for the attention it pays to detail and personal service. “There are certain things that we do that aren’t necessarily easier for us, but is nicer for the guests,” she says. “For example, we don’t serve breakfast in a restaurant; we don’t have buffets where you go and line up to get your food, like a lot of hotels do. We serve it in-suite, or we sit on the beach and it’s all cooked to order.”

The Calabash is a multi-award winning hotel. In 2015, it was ranked in the following categories by TripAdvisor
